

Recapturing Family Intimacy

We hunger for intimacy, yet we hide from each other. Learn how can we recapture the family relationships which God offers to us.

The pressures facing us as spouses, parents and children far exceed our store of wisdom and strength. Sharp words and steely indifference drive wedges between us. As tensions build, we become isolated from each other, and the hurts of the world spill over into our most intimate relationships. In the midst of these attacks, God calls families to know the deep love of Christ and to be filled up with all the fullness of God.

In this conference we will see how God has designed a wife to be a sanctuary for the heart of her husband, and the husband to express the heart of a servant towards his wife and children. In such an environment our home becomes a refuge from the pain and hurt of the world.

THIS CONFERENCE IS TAUGHT BY BILL MILLS.

Four encouraging sessions on these topics to help your people to understand:

God's Design for Marriage

God's has designed us to display His glory before the world in the love we share together. Thus, our lives become a tool for evangelism.

Marriage Since the Fall

As we examine the battle for intimacy in our marriage, we begin to see the effects of the curse on our relationships.

Submission—Becoming a Sanctuary for Your Husband

The spirit with which a wife responds to her husband creates an environment for their relationship in which God can bring them to maturity in Christ.

Headship—Learning to Serve Your Wife

In contrast to the worldly images of being a "leader," God calls a man to be a servant to his wife. As he lays down his life for her, she grows in beauty, strength, dignity and ministry.

Working Through Conflict

God teaches us to bear with one another, forgive each other, and bear one another's pain, thus stimulating the communion that reflects God's heart for our lives together.
